Maize, North America: pathogens the study did not report

Hollow grey rings are localities where nothing unreported was found; filled points carry at least one.
Point size is sampling effort, not signal. Colour and size scales are identical across every crop and continent.